Turn and Talk: Why do you think these changes have happened?

What is fostering?

Origin

Old English fōstrian 'feed, nourish', from fōster 'food, nourishment', of Germanic origin; related to food. The sense 'bring up another's (originally also one's own) child' dates from Middle English. See also foster-.

How to debate?

Listening

- Track the speaker.
- Nod in agreement if you think someone has given a good answer.
- Do not interrupt, listen politely.

Contributing

- Speak Like A Scholar.
- State the extent to which you agree or disagree with the statement.
- Use the sentence stems to add, build or challenge contributions.

Positioning

- You might want to stand to make your point
- Hands up are fine

Chairing

- Scholars can run the debate
- Cold calling is also fine if people are not volunteering

Children should be raised by a mother and a father.

Write down your opening statement.

I _____ with the statement to a _____ extent because _____ e.g., Some might agree with the statement to a large extent because

Discuss your opinion with your partner.

Debate as a class.

Children should be raised by a mother and a father.

Agree	I agree to a large extent because I agree in part because I concur because
Build on	I'd like to add I want to build on this by In addition
Challenge	I'd like to challenge that because I contest that view because I'd like to put forward an opposing idea

Agree ideas:

- Gives children access to different role models.
- Supports a traditional family structure.

Disagree ideas:

- Love and support from a parent is more important than gender.
- Many different types of families exist.
